Recognition Given To Top University Students At The Sixth Annual Honors Day Convocation

Dr. Jesse Hermann Is Principal Speaker;
Student Response Given By Ellen Drake

Eight hundred and ten University students, those having top scholastic averages, receiving scholarships, and holding membership in various campus honorary groups, received special recognition at the sixth annual Honors Day Convocation held in Memorial Hall Wednesday.

The Rev. Jesse Hermann, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, was the principal speaker at the Honors Day program. Ellen Drake, senior in the College of Education, delivered the response on behalf of the honored students, and Elliott Jones, president of YNCA, gave the invocation and benediction.

Vice president Leo M. Chamberlain presided at the convocation and Dean Maurice F. Seay presented the honored groups and individuals.

In addition to all students with an academic standing of 2.3 or higher, and members of campus honorary societies, the following students were recognized as winners of the year's major prizes and awards based on scholarship.

Prizes and Awards

College of Arts and Sciences: Alpha Chi Sigma Award, James Walter Cray; Breckinridge Chapter of the American Association of Social Workers Award, Sara Mae Greene; Charles S. Brent Memorial Prize in American History, Rose Mary Haley; Kentucky Press Association Award, Mary Elizabeth Shinnick; Willard Riggs Meredith Memorial Award, Paul Gregory Sears.

Phi Beta Kappa Music Scholarship, Joyce Ann Davis; Phi Eta Sigma Award, Maurice Raymond Van Meter; Phi Mu Alpha Sorority Award, Mary Carolyn Carver; Theta Sigma Phi Award, Patricia Ann Patterson; Alfred Charles Zembrod Scholarship, Mary Jo Bishop.

Kentuckian Will Be Ready
For Distribution May 21

Distribution of the Kentuckian will begin May 24 and continue through May 30 in Room 55, McVey Hall. The office will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day.

Seniors will receive their yearbooks first. It will not be necessary for them to have a receipt. Seniors with names beginning with A through H may get the Kentuckian on May 24, I through P on May 25, and Q through Z on May 26.

Undergraduates should bring their receipts. All undergraduates who have subscriptions may get the yearbooks May 29 and 30.

Students who do not have subscriptions may sign up. They will be distributed if there are any extras.

Yearbooks MUST be claimed by Jan. 1, 1951, or the claim will be relinquished.

Mortar Board To Initiate 16

Bess Reynolds, home economics junior, was elected president of the Mortar Board, senior women's leadership society, at the election held Monday in the SUB.

Other officers of the organization are Junalia Fergus, vice president; Virginia Cunningham, secretary; Margaret Wilson, treasurer; and Janet Anderson and Rosemary Hilling, historian-editors.

Initiation ceremonies for the sixteen women recently tapped by the Mortar Board will be held at 8 a.m. Sunday in the Botanical gardens. The initiates are Janet Anderson, Virginia Cunningham, Sue Dossett, Juanita Fergus, Marietta Georgiadou, Rose Mary Haley, Priscilla Hancher, Rosemary Hilling, Rachel Johnson, Margaret Larkin, Margery Mitchell, Elizabeth Reynolds, Mary Jo Ridley, Dorothy Seath, Annette Siler, and Margaret Wilson.

Breakfast will be served for the new initiates in the Student Union Building after the ceremonies.

ODK Plans Celebration

Nu Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa, senior men's leadership honorary, will celebrate its silver anniversary Sunday. Dr. Frank L. McVey, president emeritus of the University, will be one of the principal speakers at an anniversary banquet Sunday night.

Mr. Emmet Millward, first president of Nu Circle, will also speak at the banquet to be held at 8:30 at Capp's Coach House. Walter Cooper is in charge of arrangements.

The banquet will follow initiation services for one faculty member and seven students at 4:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church.

Dr. A. E. Bigge, head of the Department of German Language and Literature, will be initiated into the national leadership fraternity. Students to be initiated are Fred Perkins, Glenn Willis, Robert Gregory, Robert Deen, Frank Maturo, John Kulper, and Edgar McDavitt.

20 To Get Elite Title

Phi Beta Kappa's
To Hear Kluckhohn

Dr. Clyde Kluckhohn, eminent anthropologist, will speak at the twenty-fifth annual Phi Beta Kappa banquet to be held in the Bluegrass room of the SUB at 5 p.m. May 13.

Dr. Kluckhohn will speak on "Anthropology and the World Today." He is head of the department of Social Relations, and Director of the Russian Research Center at Harvard.

Phi Beta Kappa initiates of both January and May will be honored guests. Undergraduate students with exceptionally high standings will also be honored at the dinner. These include Janet Anderson, John Ballantine, Jim Cherry, Rosemary Haley, Dot Harrod, Eleanor Sturm, and Mary Kathryn Swetnam.

Initiation of the twenty new members will take place in room 205 of the SUB at 5 p.m., preceding the banquet. Dr. Charles E. Snow, head of the Department of Anthropology at UK, will preside at the banquet.

Books Must Be Returned

Seniors who have Margaret I. King Library books out or who owe the Library money will not be able to graduate until settlement is made. Dr. Lawrence S. Thompson, Director of University Libraries, has announced.

Other students who have books out or who owe the Library money will not receive a report of their grades and will not be allowed to re-enter the University, he said.

Talent To Perform In 22 New Acts

The UK Troupers, the University's talent organization, will present its annual spring show on Thursday and Friday, May 18 and 19, at 7:30 p.m. in Alumni Gym.

The show will present a picture of "Life at UK," and will be composed of 22 acts. About 50 students will perform under the direction of Bernard Johnson of the Physical Education Department.

New and different acts have been added to this year's show, including a tap dancer, a knife thrower, a soft shoe dance team, and a ballad singer.

New Acts Added
The singers, dancers, magicians, clowns and tumblers in Troupers will all perform, with completely new acts. The tumblers have added new stunts to their part of the program, which will include acts on the trampoline and other apparatus. Paul Young and Doug Osborne will be the Masters of Ceremonies, and comic relief will be provided by several clowns. In addition to the other dancers, Bernard Johnson and his five-year old daughter will perform an adagio dance.

The script was written by Bill Robinson, and music will be provided by Bill Jones and his orchestra. All sets, costumes, and choreography were made by members of Troupers, with the aid of Bernard and Frankie Johnson.

Performers in the show include Jim Anders, Betty Andes, Betty Birdsall, Bill Birdsall, Al Bruno, Billie Bryant, Carol Carter, Earl Caudill, Bob Chipley, Jerry Claiborne, George Creedie, Jim Duffy, George Francis, Kenneth Franks, Jim Inman, John Jeter, Bernard Johnson, Candy Johnson, Bruce Kunkel, Alan Marsh, Tom McKinney, Wanda Meier, and Fred Neuville.

Carl Newey, Doug Osborne, Judy Pannell, Babe Parill, Charlotte Peters, Janet Fowler, Sally Ramsey, Jeanne Rigau, Ana Rios, Bill Robinson, Lucian Rouse, Martha Shindelbower, Mary Shinnick, Charles Smith, Lorenz Smith, Bill Spivey, Harry Stille, Ruth Stiltz, Mildred Vance, Betty Jo Vaughn, Dick Wohlstein, and Paul Young.

Tickets for the show may be purchased from Shackleton's, any Troupers member, or at the door. Prices are 60 cents for adults, and 30 cents for children under 12.

Movie, "The Cheaters" To Be Shown Tonight

"The Cheaters," starring Joseph Schildkraut and Billie Burke, will be shown in Memorial Hall tonight at 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. Admission is 30 cents.

NEWLY ELECTED BAND SPONSOR Harriet Russell gets into the "swing" of things in preparation for her new job next fall by listening to some records at the Kappa Alpha Theta house. She'll hear plenty of music next year as she heads the band wherever it goes. Harriet succeeds Helen Heitsley, Delta Delta Delta, last year's sponsor.

SGA Votes $500 To ODK For Intramural Floodlights

SGA voted Monday to give ODK, senior men's honorary, $500 to help erect floodlights on the intramural field. The assembly also approved a bill which provides for the rating of professors who are teaching upper division courses.

The five hundred dollars given to ODK to supplement their present fund is to be obtained from the SGA reserve fund with permission from the administration.

A plan to rate professors which includes a ten-point rating sheet to be filled out by the students, was submitted to the assembly by Preben Haagensen, Engineering representative. The professor will be rated by two of his classes and the results will remain confidential with the rating committee, the dean of the professor's college, and the professor.

"The ten points on which they are to be graded are simple, yet inclusive," Haagensen said. "This plan has proved successful in the College of Engineering and has been received favorably by both students and faculty," he added.

The bill is on a one-year trial basis. If successful, it may be extended in 1951 to professors teaching lower division courses.

"The purpose of the plan is to help the students and teachers alike," Haagensen said. "The student would be helped by a more uniform system of grading and testing and by more informative and interesting lectures. The professor may gain in the knowledge of what his students feel are his faults as a teacher and may be able to organize his teaching methods with these points in mind." SGA also voted down a proposal which would have students seated according to their classification at next year's football games. Some members argued that such a plan is not necessary since enrollment next year will not be as high as in former years.

Schedule Is Announced For Proficiency Exams

Students must sign up for the foreign language proficiency examinations by May 20 in Room 128 of McVey Hall.

The exams will be given according to the following schedule: French, May 22, 4 p.m.; Spanish, May 23, 4 p.m.; German and Italian, May 24, 4 p.m.; Latin, May 25, 3 p.m.

14 Students To Be Initiated By Lances

Fourteen students will be initiated at 5:30 tonight by Lances, junior men's leadership society, according to Dr. William S. Ward, professor of English, faculty advisor for the group.

Donovan Will Crown Queen

Band Elects Sponsor

Harriet Russell, Education sophomore, has been chosen as sponsor for the Best Band in Dixie.

Miss Russell, a member of Kappa Alpha Theta social sorority, was chosen by a popular vote of the 98 male members of the band. She is a member of WAA, treasurer of the Panhellenic Council, and rush chairman of Kappa Alpha Theta.

The band members will devote their performance at the L.S.U. game, Sept. 23, to honoring Miss Russell.

Helen Heitsley, Delta Delta Delta, is the retiring sponsor.

May Day Schedule
Also Includes Dance

By Kathryn Whitmer

The May Day Queen will be crowned tomorrow by President H. L. Donovan following a parade to Stoll Field. The parade will start at 1:30 p.m. in front of the Administration Building.

A semi-formal dance from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the Bluegrass Room of the Student Union Building will climax the May Day celebration sponsored by Sukey. Tickets for the dance are $1.25 and are being sold at the ticket booth of the SUB.

The parade will move down South Limestone Street to Maxwell, then west on Maxwell to Broadway, going north on Broadway to Main Street, the parade will then go east on Main to Rose Street and then to Stoll Field.

Sukey To Lead Parade

Members of Sukey will lead the parade and the Queen and her attendants will be riding on the Sukey float. The University Band and neighboring high school bands will take part in the parade along with the floats of the sororities, fraternities, and one residence hall.

At Stoll Field the Queen will be presented by Gene Stevens, past president of Sukey. A program will be given for the Queen and her court by Tau Sigma and UK Troupers. A May Pole Dance will be given by the fourth grade students from the University Training School and the fifth and sixth grade students will present an Indian Dance.

New Members Announced

New officers of Sukey will be presented at the May Day Dance. The winners of the floats and the tryouts who will be crowned Queen of Sukey will be announced by Frank Maturo, the new president of Sukey. The new members will receive keys.

The Queen and her attendants will reign over the dance. Finalists in the contest are Doll Price, Kappa Delta; Barbara Powell, Patterson Camp, Delta Delta Delta; Doris Walker, Independent; Carolyn Critchlow, Kappa Alpha Theta; Jane Barnett, Alpha Gamma Delta; Mary Jo Ridley, Alpha Delta Pi; Janice Stille, Alpha Xi Delta; and Doris Elth, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Music Seniors Plan Recitals

Two recitals featuring graduating music students have been scheduled for May 15 and 17 by the Department of Music.

Featured on the first program are Martha Payne Kittingers, pianist, and Jo Ann Range Walden mezzo-soprano. The recital will be given at 8 p.m. in the Laboratory Theater of the Fine Arts Building, Annette Siler will be the accompanist.

Miss Kittingers is a member of the Women's Glee Club, Phi Beta Kappa, and the YWCA. She is a student of Miss Helen Houden.

The second graduating student recital, set for 8 p.m. in Memorial Hall, will feature Barbara Shafer, soprano, and Joseph Denny Harrison, pianist. Accompanists will be Ann Huddleston and Jo Ann Rhoads.

Miss Shafer is a member of the Women's Glee Club, Phi Beta Kappa, and the YWCA. She is a student of Miss Helen Houden.

Denny is past president of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, member of the University Madrigals, Men's Glee Club, and Chorists. He is a student of Aimo Kiviniemi.

Radio Branch To Make Tour

Prof. H. W. Farris, faculty advisor, and 12 members of the student branch of the Institute of Radio Engineers left today on their second annual field trip.

The group will visit the American Telephone and Telegraph Company at Cincinnati. From there they will go to Louisville where they will attend the IRE section meeting. O. W. Townner, technical director of station WHAS, will speak to the section meeting on "Small Station Television Facilities."

'Vague' Literary Magazine To Go On Sale Next Week

Vague magazine, annual literary publication of Chi Delta Phi literary honorary society, will be on sale on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. in the Post Office, the SUB, the Fine Arts Building, and in front of White Hall.

Trooper Show Set For May 18, 19 Will Give Picture Of 'Life At UK'

Bill Birdsall and his wife, Betty, will perform a magician's act at the Troupers show. The pair promise to put on a very fine show to highlight the evening.

Many Educators Attending UK Language Conference

Approximately 600 language scholars and teachers from throughout the nation are attending the third annual Foreign Language Conference on campus this week. Dr. Jonah W. Skiles, conference director, announced.

An address last night by Dr. Irwin T. Sanders, head of the Department of Sociology and "Distinguished Professor of the Year," opened the conference. His subject was "A Study of Social Change: The Peasant in Eastern Europe."

Participating actively in the program either through lectures or presentation of papers are nearly 100 educators from 23 states, Canada, and England.

Featured speakers of the Conference are Dr. William C. Korfmacher, St. Louis University; Dr. Adolph J. Dickman, University of Wyoming; Dr. Carl F. Schreiber, Yale University; and Dr. H. Carrington Lancaster, Johns Hopkins University.

Meetings are being held in French, German, Greek and Latin, Spanish, Slavonic, Biblical and patristic languages.

All papers and lectures scheduled during the three-day sessions are related directly or indirectly to the conference theme, "Ways to International Understanding."

Assisting Dr. Skiles with the conference program are Dr. Daniel V. Hegeman, professor of German, and Dr. T. C. Walker, associate professor of romance languages.

Job Opportunities Worry Prospective June Graduates

Among hundreds of releases and news items received by the Kernel during the last few weeks have been several pertaining to decreased job opportunities for June graduates. We have printed some of them, showing the approximate demand in various fields. To date, however, we've made no suggestions as to how the shortage can be overcome.

"The Daily Reveille" of LSU seems to have done some research on the subject, and recently came up with the cartoon on this page and the following editorial:

"Graduating seniors of this year's vintage are going through some spectacular extremes to sell their wares as potential employees, a recent newspaper article tells us.

"One student advertised his abilities on a billboard near East Lansing, Mich. Another dreamed up a miniature newspaper, its headlines screaming that 'Ed English hits labor market,' with which to flood prospective employers. Still another student is sending out brochures attached to real dollar bills, carrying out the theme that it would be profitable to hire the applicant, who would bring dollars to the company.

"Perhaps the most rash of all these promises was that of a California student who wrote prospective employers that he was 'ready to leave the city, state, country or planet for a whack at regular employment.'

"From all reports, though, it's going to take tactics such as these and a lot more to crash the labor market this year.

"CIO President Philip Murray recently said that the country is only '316,000 unemployed away from the danger mark of 5,000,000,' which doesn't exactly paint a bright picture for the millions whom colleges will shortly let loose to flood the market even more.

"Furthermore, according to the secretary of labor, the number of potential workers, which includes this year's graduating class, is exceeding by 300,000 to 400,000 each year the number of job openings.

"To relieve the congested situation around the entrance to good jobs, some suggestions have been made which apply to the college student. These include simply keeping male college students where they are, putting them in the army for two years, and reviving the CCC camps.

"The first of these, of course, would indeed delight the nation's colleges, most of which are just now recovering from the weight of the war's influx of students. The second would please the student who has been working toward an independent life of his own, only to find himself chucked into Uncle Sam's army for a couple of years. The third, of course, would be a pleasure to the national budget, already out of whack thanks to the man in the White House who doesn't seem to know red ink from black.

"Any way the college student looks at it, his is not going to be a happy lot come June. But even at that he will probably have the edge over fellow job-seekers who don't have a college education behind them."

Some of the methods which have already been tried are quite ingenious, and the suggested methods may have some value. Most of us would rather take our chances in the cold, cruel world (where many have been for four or more years already, contrary to commencement speakers' beliefs) when the day comes to doff cap and gown.

All is not lost, however, so long as prospective graduates retain their senses of humor, such as at Long Island University, where the attention of June graduates was brought to the following poem:

A young theologian named Fiddle
Refused to accept his degree;
"For," said he, "It's enough to be Fiddle, Without being Fiddle, D.D."

Two Important Bills And An Advertising Drive

The Student Government Association passed two measures this week which should be of benefit to the student body. Certainly, approval of funds to help with the lighting of the intramural field will gain support from campus athletes and spectators alike.

Omicron Delta Kappa, working with the Intramural Department, has been considering the lighting project all this year. It is, however, too expensive for one organization to sponsor. Even with funds from other sources, the amount which could be raised was not sufficient to pay for the project if, as is desirable, wires for the lights were buried underground. The SGA appropriation, if approved, would be of great benefit to a large segment of the student body.

LSU'S JOB-HUNTER CARTOON (See editorial)

The other decision made at the meeting, to provide for student ratings for professors, could be of great help in improving relations between the two groups, and in improving classroom learning. All too many instructors deliver dry, uninformative lectures without ever knowing they are not suitable to the members of their classes. We believe the professors will welcome the innovation as much as will the students.

Finally, concerning SGA discussions about "advertising" the organization, we'd like to make a couple of suggestions. In the first place, the Kernel will not act as a sort of Congressional Record and print all that happens at SGA meetings. We do not have space to devote to the less important of them. Our readers would not be interested, either. And a political column would be of little interest or worth except during campaigns. After that, there is little public politicking. If there were, the Kernel could not fairly print it because of the constant danger of becoming biased, or seemingly so, in reporting party goings-on.

The Kernel is very much interested in anything done by SGA which has a direct and important effect on the UK student. It will print all it believes of importance. It is SGA's responsibility to continue to do important work—otherwise the Kernel and the majority of students will ignore any advertising concerning it.

"The Way West," by A. B. Guthrie, Jr., is a novel that is sure to live in the annals of American literature.

but also for the harassed faculty of the University.

Why can't the grass around the campus be cut late in the afternoon when most of the classes are out? As things stand now, the power lawnmowers, which sound very much like a combination motor boat and B-25, greatly disturb many morning classes as they putt, putt, putt, putt by the open windows.

We students are here for an education and nothing should enter into our path which might cause us to miss even a sentence of a lecture.

It seems that most of the putting is done in the morning. Do these operators of the machines pick out when most of the students are congregated and open the throttle wide?

A University decree should be made immediately which will prohibit any lawn cutting before 3 p.m., or better still 4 p.m. Now that daylight saving time is here, these grass barbers could work between 3 and 7. This would benefit them, for the temperature would be lower and the weather nice and cool.

Anyhow, let's hope that something will be done about this.

Major Nathan Adams, Auburn '40
Personnel Manager, U.S. Air Force

A top scholar and ROTC Honor Graduate, Cadet Lt. Col. Nathan Adams enjoyed his final military ball in 1940, soon left for Fort Sill's Field Artillery School.

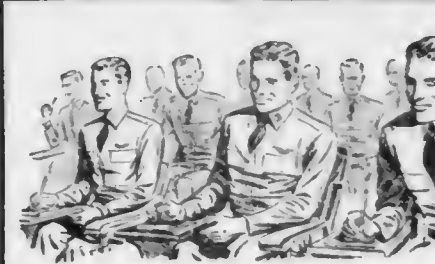

Following a three month course, Lt. Adams decided the Air Force was the place for him. He applied for pilot training, was accepted, proceeded to Maxwell Field.

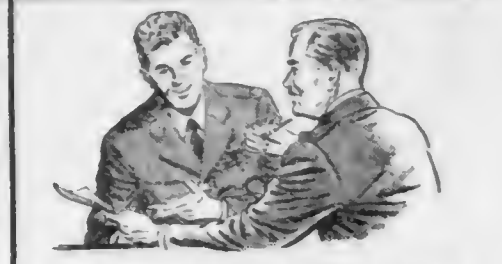

He won his wings and reported to the 36th Fighter Group in Puerto Rico. The group soon returned to the States, giving Adams a chance to marry his college sweetheart.

Within months Adams was overseas, flying "rhubarb" (missions against enemy transports). He flew 63 P-47 missions within seven months, returned to the States late in 1944 for rest and recuperation.

V-J Day came, and Adams decided to make the service a career. He chose personnel work as his career field, was assigned for training to the Adjutant General's School at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia.

Now a regular Air Force Major, he heads a 32-man section at Bolling Air Force Base. He advises his Commanding Officer on selection, assignment and promotion of all officers and airmen in the command.

If you are single, between the ages of 20 and 26½, with at least two years of college, consider the many career opportunities as a pilot or navigator in the U. S. Air Force. Procurement Teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain these career opportunities. Watch for them. You may also get full details at your nearest Air Force Base or U. S. Army and U. Theater Will Give Passes For Roses If In Song Title

By Bob Cox

The Kentucky Theater, in a most unusual mood, is offering 40 free passes this week to the theater to anyone who can see a song title in the latest list of songs with the word "ROSE" in it, will go two passes each to the Kentucky Theater. The contest is in conjunction with this week's showing of "The Daughter Of Rosie O'Grady". The contest deadline is Wednesday noon May 17, and entries must be addressed to "Daughter Of Rosie O'Grady", c/o Kentucky Theater. Don't tell anyone we told you, but here's a little starter for you all: "Daughter Of Rosie O'Grady", "Sweet Rose O'Grady", and "Rose O'Grady". You take it from there, and hope you like the show.

"The Daughter Of Rosie O'Grady" stars Jane Haver and Gordon MacRae in another of these technicolor musical comedy extravaganzas that make for an enjoyable hour and 45 minutes of fun and music. June is as easy to gaze upon, and Gordon is easy to listen to as they were in "Sweet Lining", the last picture they co-starred in. June is the daughter whose father, portrayed by James Barton, opposes anything that might hurt her. Gordon is the famous Tuxedo Man, who succeeds in luring her into a stage career and winning her heart. There are dozens of delectable tunes presented and you might say they are all "O-Grady"! Opens today at the Kentucky.

"Comanche Territory"

Another immortal American is elevated on the screen when "Comanche Territory" opens Sunday at the Ben Ali Theater. Jim Bowie, the man who introduced the famous Bowie knife, is the hero of this one and he is ably portrayed by Maureen O'Hara. Maureen O'Hara plays the female lead as the treacherous and who betrays her outlaw brother for the love of Bowie. A couple hundred Navahoes do a good job of imitating Comanches and add to the color of the technicolor scenery. It's a good western with a slightly different angle.

Double Feature

Offered as a big time thrill program, "Back To Bataan" and "Marine Raiders" opens Saturday at the State Theater. Deal with World War II heroism in the Pacific, and feature star casts and vivid action in a popular twin bill revival. "Back To Bataan" co-stars John Wayne and Anthony Quinn, and describes the American guided underground Filipino resistance to Japanese occupation in Luzon. The picture's feature is the remembrance of the infamous "Death March" and the rescue of the prisoners by the Rangers.

Pat O'Brien, Robert Ryan, and Ruth Hussey are top-flight in the production "Marine Raiders". It, too, concerns the battle for the Philippines and includes a good portion on the training of paratroopers in a California training base.

The two shows take a little over three hours and are well worth the time as they are two of the best movies of the war era.

Phi Sigs Initiate Ten

Ten men were initiated by Phi Sigma Kappa social fraternity at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in the SUB.

The initiates are Noyce R. Copeland, Warren K. Dohy, William E. Forre Jr., Donald W. Neal, Harry J. Quimet Jr., James V. Pickett, Don R. Richardson, Don T. Wechsler, John T. Williams, and Bill Bohon.

Revelations Come To Light As Bleidt Band Dis-bands

By Joe Coyle

Robert Anthony "Bob" Bleidt and his young, talented associates are landmarks hereabouts. From the callow girl, class, of '33, fresh from the provinces and who danced dewey-eyed to their music at her first college dance, to the old grad of '45 who got his college kicks listening to the Bleidt crew, few are the UK Joes and Janes who have not danced to the selections and blarney, jazz riffs and bop riffs, blue moans and sweet phrasings of this outfit.

Therefore it came with some shock of a shock last week when the word got around that Bob and his boys were disbanding. To most campus "cats" who heard the news it brought a twinge of regret that the old order passed, and many of them began recalling with appropriate nostalgia the first time they had heard Bleidt, where it was, who they had been with, and "boy was Mack Shmoe loaded that night!" But how many of them know anything about this self-effacing young man and the musicians who have made the blue and white orchestra one of the best college dance bands in the country?

To Get Masters Degree

With this in mind, the Kernel went out and dug up some information on them, much of which will be surprising even to the "cats" who should know about such things. For instance, how many of us know that Bob is an industrial chemistry major? In fact, probably the biggest reason for the dissolution of the band is that Bob will receive his master's degree in August and depart for the esoteric horizons of chemistry where electrons and neutrons will occupy more of his time than bass clefs.

A little more prying into the background of the maestro brought out the fact that he is a veteran of service with the Naval Air Corps, 25 years old, and plays a mean sax and clarinet himself. The list of campus organizations to which he has belonged is staggering. The most impressive of these is, naturally, Phi Beta Kappa. After that comes Phi Mu Alpha, Lambda, Omicron Delta Kappa, Student Union Board, Delta Chi Sigma, and Sigma Xi, just to mention a few.

Began At Henry Clay

Bleidt has had a hand since his early days at Henry Clay High School in Lexington. He reorganized this band at UK in 1945, and has kept it practically intact since then. In that year Bleidt's bunch received immediate recognition on the campus when President H. L. Donovan dubbed them the Blue and White orchestra which amounted to practically official status as the orchestra at UK.

The band has not confined itself to playing only local engagements. They have ranged about the Midwest playing important spots such as Castle Farm in Cincinnati, the Club Madrid in Louisville, and Buckeye Lake's Crystal Ballroom—engagements that many an older hand might envy.

Has 500 Arrangements

Since 1945 the band has had a library of over 500 arrangements made by Jim Tyler, Bill McKrell, Jim Eversole, and Chu Curtis. The arrangements have set the style of the band; they are characterized by slow, dreamy vocals and jump arrangements with exceptionally high ranged brass parts. In the words of one of the bandsmen (not a brass man) "it takes three damn good trumpet men to handle the book because it's written so high." Jazz tunes are inclined to the blipsh side with most of the sidemen capable of playing pure jazz.

About the musicians themselves—most of the men are veterans who have had previous experience with name bands including Shep Fields, Billy Butterfield, Ray Anthony, Clyde McCoy, Russ Carlisle, and Jack Teagarden. Sax player Bill McKrell had to refuse an offer from Stan Kenton a few years ago because he received his greetings from the government at the same time. Roy Russell, jazz trumpet, played in 52nd Street nightclubs in New York before coming to Lexington.

Vocalist Was At WLW

Bleidt's present band consists of the following: Trumpets — Lee Schmidt, Roy Russell (jazz), and Bill Hays; trombones — Fred Hines, Burdiss Gideon, and Tom Williams (jazz); alto saxes — George Doyle, and Andrew Chaky; tenor saxes — Byron Romanowitz (jazz) and Bill McKrell; baritone sax — Bob McGhee; piano — Jim Eversole; bass — Morris Carter; drums — Sherman Vandaman; vocalists — Jan Marlowe and Bob McGhee, who is also business manager. Personable Jan Marlowe is no neophyte at this warbling business. She was featured for a year over station WLW as vocalist on the "Moon River" program. She got one of her biggest breaks recently when she won the Elliott Lawrence vocalist contest at Joyland.

Well, that's Bob, and that's the band. It's a pretty sure bet that wherever those UK grads congregate who were in school during any portion of the '45 to '50 period, one of them is bound to say, "remember the night Mack Shmoe got so loaded? We had Bleidt's band for the dance... boy those guys were terrific!"

Prof. H. W. Farris of the Electrical Engineering Department attended a television conference in Cincinnati recently.

Airline Group To Close Year With Poe Play

Airline Theatre will close the current season of locally-produced radio drama Monday evening with the presentation of "Tarr and Fether" by Edgar Allan Poe.

Broadcast time is 8:30 over both WBKY-FM and WKLLX.

Although written by the man who was America's first great writer of mystery and horror-fiction, "Tarr and Fether" is described by Poe authorities as "brilliant comedy." The comparatively unknown work is a satire about the inmates of a French insane asylum, who toss their keepers in the padded cells, throw away the keys, and start running the place on their own.

They apparently did a pretty good job of it until one day the disgruntled keepers decided to stage a counter-revolution. All this transpires amid a galaxy of the craziest people this side of a fourth of July fair sale.

An instance there is the man who though he was a tea-pot and spent all his time polishing himself, the woman who thought she was a donkey and behaved exactly like one, allegorically speaking, of course, and finally the man who ran around with his leg between two slices of rye bread trying to get someone to take a bite. He thought his leg was Swiss cheese.

State Chorus Sings Tonight In Vocal Meet

Four thousand high school students from schools in every part of the state began the 26th annual State High School Music Festival Wednesday. The program will continue through tomorrow.

The 700 voice All-Kentucky Chorus will sing tonight at 7:30 in Alumni gymnasium under the direction of Lara Hoggard, assistant director of the Fred Waring Glee Club. Piano solos and competitions between small ensembles will complete today's program. Tomorrow's schedule includes chorus, glee club, and choir competitions.

Open to the public, the festival is under the direction of Prof. Louis Clifton, director of the University Extension. His assistant is Miss Jean Marie McConnell of the Extension Department.

Jim Todd Is Elected Disciples President

Jim Todd, sophomore pre-law student was elected president of the Disciples Student Fellowship at their annual retreat held last week end. Other officers are Martha Tarpley, vice president, and Randal Martin, treasurer.

Harry Lancaster, assistant basketball coach, will be one of the speakers in a series on "Drinking" to be sponsored by the DSP. The data has not been announced.

Porter's Poll

Ho, Hum, Spring Weather Sure Is Hard On Grades

By Shirley Porter

Question of the week: WHAT EFFECT DO YOU THINK SPRING WEATHER HAS ON SCHOLARSHIP?

FRED BRADLEY: "It better start raining every day, or I'm not going to pass."

RONNIE SHIFLET: "It is too hard to concentrate when the sun is shining outside and you are all cooped up inside."

HENRY PREWITT: "It doesn't bother me at all."

TOMMY TOWNES: "Spring fever

makes the mind wander here, there, and everywhere."

RAMONA TACKETT: "It is such a temptation to do away with studying at night."

JOHN MUSSER: "Everyone feels like doing a lot less, and just laying around and taking things easy."

JOHN PEDIGO: "Why should the overall scholarship decline? After all, fall football weather is pretty nice and very few students fail to take advantage of it."

JUDY SHEETS: "You just don't feel like doing anything except taking sun baths."

DAVE HOLLAND: "It tends to lessen it."

BILL HENDRICKS: "Personally it improves mine, but in general I think the effect is otherwise."

ANN WINBURN: "It does have its effects, and they are all bad."

RUTH BISHOP: "Everyone knows that in the spring a young man's fancy turns to love."

DOUG BROWN: "It's killing me."

BOB HARRISON: "Probably lowers it, because there are too many outside interests like tennis, softball, and warm moonlight nights."

LOIS PAYNE: "If our schedules could include a course about Boonesboro Beach everyone would make wonderful grades."

Sigma Chi Awards Outstanding Members

"BY THE WAY—DID YOU REMEMBER THAT DAY?"

LIZABETH SCOTT dropped into the Kernel office this week to display her new bathing suit and say "hello" to old friends among the staff. Various comments and reactions occurred. Nell Blair just didn't seem to notice the intruder. Bob Cox is still sitting at the copy desk in a daze. Bill Mansfield is still sitting on the chandelier, refusing to come down. Joan Cook offered to rattle Liz two out of three falls, and Betty Borgess tried to roll up in her typewriter. Bob Fain said "Gee!" and joined Mansfield on the chandelier. George Reynolds, a married man, was heard to exclaim, "Gosh, she has pretty eyes!" Whereupon, Miss Scott disappeared. It is the consensus of opinion that the whole incident was nothing but a mirage caused by the extreme heat in the office and the hard work (?) of the staff. However, Staff Photographer Ben Williams, alert as ever, and keeping his mind on his business, got the above shot before Miss Scott disappeared.

Four Receive Scholarships In Engineering

Four high school seniors have been awarded engineering scholarships to the University, according to Engineering Dean D. V. Terrell.

The students and the awards they will receive are Ronald Farnley, Louisville, the Plantmix Asphalt Industry of Kentucky scholarship;
Earl O'Nan, Frankfort, the Kentucky
Association of Highway Contractors scholarship; Kenneth List, Louisville, the J. Stanley Dawson scholarship, and Jesse Jackson Jr., Mt. Sterling, the Harry O. Wyse scholarship.

The scholarships, valued at $500 each, will become effective at the beginning of the fall term in September. Recipients were selected by the University scholarship committee on the basis of student scores in competitive examinations. Those making the highest scores were interviewed before final selections were made.

Tax Forum Held Here

An audience of 250 accountants and tax experts from various parts of the country attended the first annual Kentucky accounting institute and tax forum held on the campus Tuesday and Wednesday.

Chief speaker on the program was
Dr. C. C. Carpenter, dean of the College of Commerce.
Other speakers included Merle H.
Miller, Indianapolis tax lawyer;
Subrey S. Marrs, chief of the Bureau of Internal Revenue's technical staff in Washington, D. C.; George S.
Allen, Chicago bank executive, and Garman C. Blough, New York, director of research for the American Institute of Accountants. Professors of commerce from various colleges were also on the program.

Sponsoring the two-day forum were the Kentucky State Bar Association, the Kentucky Society of Certified Public Accountants, and the College of Commerce.

Conn-Cox 'Uns

By Earl Conn and Bob Cox

Comprehensives took a heavy toll of our time this week, so you all are getting a slight reprieve from the task of sweating through the column of horrors.

We're making them short this week, but here's hoping you like 'em better than we liked our comprehensives, anyway. Man, we're weak and weary. This is awful. Can any man take a punishment so severe and live through it? For an answer, check this same spot next week and see for yourself.

Oscar came to the big city and got a job as a girl's boarding school janitor. He was given a pass key to every room in the building. The following week the dean ran across him in the hall. "Why didn't you come around Friday to get your pay, Oscar?"

"What?" he gasped. "Do I get wages too?"

Hubby: I accidentally caught sight of the maid in her pajamas, dear.
She has almost as good a figure as you have.

Wife: So the chauffeur says.

A car pulled up and stopped along side a stranded coupe.

"What's the matter?" asked the intended helper. "Outa gas?"

"Nope," came the answer from inside.

"Engine trouble?"

"Nope."

"Tire down?"

"Nope, didn't have to."

"Thish match won't light."

"Whasha matter wif it?"

"Damifino. It lit alright a minute ago."

THE Blue PRINT

The two major league scouts who saw the Kentucky-Georgia games last week were treated to some good—and some bad—baseball.

Several boys on both teams sparked both in the field and at bat. The best play of the series was turned in by Johnny Stough, who made a diving stop of a hard hit ground ball in the hole between second and first and threw the runner out from a sitting position. That play, which came in that 13-inning tie game, couldn't have been executed better by a major leaguer.

Another great play came in that same contest when Dom Fucci made a catch of a fly ball in right field and delivered a beautiful throw to the plate that made the Georgia runner on third stay right on his perch. Any other type of throw would have let the runner score what would have proved to be the winning run.

For the Georgians, Capt. Billy Henderson and third-sacker Hobey Jackson stood out. They both hit and fielded well and showed that they are the type of material the scouts were looking for.

But on the bad side, there were 16 errors in the two games—10 by the Bulldogs and 6 by the Wildcats. Very few of the 21 runs scored in the two games were earned, and questionable strategy was employed by both teams.

In the first game, Kentucky passed up an opportunity to win in the regulation nine innings by their refusal to employ the sacrifice bunt. Three times in the ninth, but crucial game, the Wildcats had their lead-off hitter get on base safely, but each time they chose to hit away rather than play for one run.

The strategy backfired in the fourth. After Moseley had led off with a single, Cummins followed with a double, but in between these two hits, Hirsch struck out and Perilli grounded out. Had Hirsch sacrificed Moseley to second, he could have scored on the double, and the Wildcats could probably have won 1-0, as Newton was in great form and didn't weaken until the 13th inning.

Georgia's lead-off man of the inning got on base five different times, and each time the sacrifice sign was flashed to the batter and executed perfectly. Their strategy didn't pay off, but it was because Newton was hurling superb ball and never allowed more than one hit in any inning.

In the second game, with the score tied 7-7 in the last half of the ninth, it's this corner's opinion that both teams erred.

For Kentucky, Stough, the lead-off hitter in the line-up, started the inning with a ringing single to left, which the leftfielder let go through him for an error, allowing Stough to advance to second.

With a man on second, none out, and the heart of the batting order coming up, it is our opinion that the second man—who is supposed to be hitting in this spot for his ability to advance a runner—should have been instructed to bunt down the first base line, which would let Stough come to third.

From there he could have scored on a fly ball, a hard hit grounder, a passed ball, an error, or a hit. It seems probable that the third and fourth men in the lineup could have been counted on for something from this combination of possibilities.

This would have been playing "percentage" ball, and "going by the book."

An identical example of this situation occurred in the Boston Red Sox-Cleveland Indians game played the same day. With the score tied 4-4 in the 9th, Hegan of the Indians doubled to start the inning, and was immediately sacrificed to third from where he scored the winning run on a fly ball.

Instead, for Kentucky, Zaranka was allowed to swing away and lined a long hit to right field that allowed Stough to score the winning run.

On the Georgia side of the same situation—with a man on second representing the winning run, we believe that the second Kentucky batter should have been intentionally walked, putting runners on first and second and setting up a possible double play. Putting another man on base would not have hurt the Bulldogs as the winning tally was already on.

Had the twin-killing occurred, there would have been two out, a man on third, and a fly ball or a grounder would have retired the side without a run.

Of course, this is all hypothetical, but it is playing the percentage and is straight baseball. That is what wins pennants. If you have read this far, what do you think—what strategy would you have used?

Those pesky Tennessee Volunteers, currently riding a six-game winning streak, furnish the opposition for Kentucky this afternoon in the first of four games this week and next that probably will decide the SEC Eastern Division championship.

The Wildcats, themselves the owners of ten-game chain of victories, need to cool off the steaming Vols in at least three of the four games if they want to assure themselves of the flag.

Georgia, second to Kentucky in the division with a 9-4 record, begins a four-game series with their cross-state rivals, Georgia Tech, at the same time, and the title hinges on the outcome of these two series.

Here are some of the possibilities:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Kentucky	11	2	.856
Georgia	13	4	.764

In case the Bulldogs win all four games, and Kentucky wins three and losses one, here is how they will finish:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Kentucky	10	3	.769
Georgia	13	4	.764

If the Bulldogs and Wildcats each win three and lose one, the result would be this way:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Kentucky	10	3	.769
Georgia	12	5	.705

On the other hand, if the two leaders split with their opponents, the race would wind up like this:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Kentucky	9	4	.692
Georgia	11	6	.647

Any more than two losses would just about eliminate the Wildcats from the race, unless both teams lost all four games, in which case Tennessee would be a definite contender.

The Vols will be tough, as they have come on to win their last six games by huge margins after a dismal start. They started their string by nailing out Georgia Tech, 4-3. They slaughtered the Engineers, 17-8, the next day, and then blasted Vanderbilt, 11-2 and 12-4—the last one in five innings. Their last wins came at the expense of the touring Georgia Bulldogs, 8-4 and 6-2.

That means the Vols have hustled home 58 runs in these six games while allowing their opponents 23.

Kentucky probably will find them troublesome, as they do in every other sport, but should win the necessary games to cop the title, as they will have Bob Hatchett and C. M. Newton rested and ready for starting roles both at home and away, and the other hurlers—Guy Strong, Ray Wiseman, Al MacLeod, and Walt Hirsch—will be ready for relief duty.

Wildcats, Vols Clash Today

Series Crucial For Kentucky In SEC Race

Big C. M. Newton will probably open on the hill this afternoon in the first of a two-game series against the Tennessee Volunteers. Game time is 3 o'clock.

The Wildcats will be going after their eleventh straight victory and their first over the Vols.

Kentucky has only four games left in the conference and all will be against Tennessee. They play here today and tomorrow, and two more in Knoxville next weekend.

Last year the Volunteers almost upset the Kentucky applicant in the last game of the season when they defeated the Cats 10-8, to leave them only a few percentage points ahead of Georgia in the final standings.

Catcher Jay Cummins is currently leading the Kentucky batters who have appeared in most of the games. Cummins is hitting at a .333 clip, with nine hits in 27 times at bat. Close behind is Capt. Johnny Stough with a .315 average on 12 hits in 38 trips to the plate.

The best average on the team is held by Benny Zaranka who is rolling along at a .466 pace, but Zaranka has been to the plate only 15 times. He has 7 hits, including a pair of home runs and two triples.

Guy Strong, a pitcher who sometimes sees duty at first base, is batting .429 with six bingles in 14 tries, and has driven in seven runs. The leader in the runs-batted-in department is Stough, who has sent eight runners across the plate.

The overall team batting average is .274 on 100 hits in 397 times at bat, according to statistics released Thursday.

Paced by Big Benny Zaranka's two home runs over the left field wall, the Wildcats mauled the Cincinnati Bearcats, 12-2, in notching their tenth consecutive triumph Tuesday.

Copch Frank Moseley let all five of his pitchers share the hurling duties, working them in two-inning stretches. The win went to Guy Strong, who came on in the third and allowed the two Bearcat runs. Before he went out, however, the Cats were leading 6-2, and Strong had accounted for part of the big lead with a run-producing single.

Cincinnati scored first, singles by Jim Holstein, Joe Barbieri, and Jim Kelly, a long fly, and an error producing two runs in the fourth inning.

The Wildcats came right back in the home half of the same frame to take a big 6-2 lead on six singles by Zaranka, Allen Hamilton, Dom Fucci, Doug Moseley, Jay Cummins, and Johnny Stough, and an intentional pass to Walt Hirsch.

They added three more runs in the sixth on Cummins' second single, Ray Wiseman's triple, Stough's long fly, and Zaranka's first homer.

Fucci walked, stole second, and came home on Whisman's triple in the seventh. Pitch-hitter, Buddy Clegg's triple, followed by Zaranka's second round-tripper gave the Cats their final runs in the eighth.

Score by innings: R H E Cincinnati.....000 200 000—2 7 2 Kentucky.....000 603 12X—12 14 1 Batteries: Wanamaker, Helms (4) and Brill, Radtke (7); Newton, Strong (3), Wiseman (5), MacLeod (7), Hatchett (9) and Cummins, Fucci (7).

With most of the regulars sitting on the bench at the start of the game, the Wildcats came from behind in the ninth inning to edge out the Vanderbilt Commodores, 8-7, last Friday.

Guy Strong's second hit of the game drove in Johnny Stough and

A swing and a miss—this time—for BENNY ZARANKA, hard hitting centerfielder on the Wildcat baseball team. But he didn't miss two other times and on both occasions, he sent the apple over the left field wall for home runs as Kentucky walloped the Cincinnati Bearcats, 12-2. Zaranka is currently pounding the pellet at a healthy clip, and his timely hitting is a big reason why Kentucky is on top of the SEC's Eastern Division. The catcher shown is Radtke of Cincinnati, and the umpire is "Beef" Shwaller.

Doug Moseley with the tying and winning runs after Vandy had held a 7-6 advantage since the fifth inning. The Commodores led off the scoring with three runs in the first inning before Pitcher Walt Hirsch could stem their attack. Kentucky whittled away part of that lead in their half of the inning when Hamilton brought home two runs with a double.

Vanderbilt added a run in the third, two in the fourth, and one in the fifth, while Kentucky was picking up one in the second, two in the third, and one in the fourth to set the stage for Strong's pay-off blow.

For Kentucky, Moseley, Strong, and Hamilton had two hits each and accounted for six Wildcat runs. For Vandy, Bob Smith had three hits, including a double and a home run.

Breck Hall Tops Tavern
In Independent Finals

By Lewis Donohew

Staging a four-run uprising with two men out in the last of the sixth, Breck Hall came through with a 7-6 win over Tavern Boys Wednesday to win the finals of the independent 'winners' division of the 1-M softball tournament.

The winner of the Lambda Chi-Delta game yesterday afternoon determined the undefeated finalist in the fraternity division.

Breck Hall will meet the winner of yesterday's Tavern Boys-Scott Street Barracks game for the overall championship. Breck will have to suffer two losses to be put out of the running, while their once-defeated opponent may lose only one.

Fred Lawson, Breck hurler, retired the first nine men in order and coasted into the fourth inning with a 3-0 lead. Then the Tavern team nicked him for four runs in the fourth inning and two more in the fifth to wrest away the lead.

A home run and a double by Tom Diskin, the latter blow bringing in two runs in the sixth inning, led Breck Hall hitters. Fred Lawson also homered for the winners.

Several Upsets

Upsets were as common as an umpire's yer out in the speeded-up tournament this week.

Lambda Chi continued their surprise win streak by handing SAE, tourney favorite, their first loss, 12-7. The fourth-seeded Delts held the second-seeded Sig Eps to two hits while handing them a 4-0 thumping. BSU gave the Sluggers their second loss of the tourney, 3-0, after Breck Hall knocked them down, 4-3, earlier in the week.

Tavern Boys and Breck Hall were the only favorites running true to form, second-seeder TB's edging fourth-seeded Scott Street Barracks, 7-5, while Breck was beating the Sluggers.

Lexington's switch to daylight saving time was a shot in the arm to the dragging tournament, the extra hour gained each day allowing another game to be played. Favorable weather during the first part of the week allowed all games to be played as scheduled.

Bunting successfully in all three of his times at bat, Bob Ratcliff led a 13-hit Lambda Chi assault on SAE for an upset victory. Chuck Rogers hit a home run for the losers.

Line score:
Lambda Chi063 30-12
Sigma Alpha Epsilon102 22-7
Batteries: Lingenfelter and Donohew; Jacobs and Marsh.

Gayle Casswell turned in a two-hit pitching performance in stopping the Sig Eps to vault his team into the semifinal round. Porter and Bailey were the only Sig Eps getting safe blows off the hurler.

Line score:
Sigma Phi Epsilon000 00-0
Sigma Alpha Epsilon013 08-4
Batteries: Spears and Hibbs; Casswell and Tharp.

The Tavern Boys-Scott Street Barracks contest was a game marked by wildness on the part of the pitchers and also by a lack of hitting. Tavern Boys made five hits, the Barracksmen only two.

Line score:
Scott Street Barracks000 06-6
Tavern Boys010 08-7
Batteries: Fracko and Englehart; McClain and Daugherty.

Base-hits by Tom Diskin and Charlie Warner led Breck Hall to a close win over the Sluggers. Fred Lawson tossed a two-hitter for the winners.

Cat Linksmen Meet Tech Today, Tomorrow;
Vols, Miami, And Cincinnati Are UK Victims

By Fred Lawson

Kentucky's golfers will be going after their 11th and 12th wins of the season when they meet the Georgia Tech linksmen today and tomorrow on the Lexington Country Club course.

The second match is to make up the match that was called off in Atlanta because of the death of Tech's Athletic Director William A. Alexander.

Returning from the Southeastern Conference tourney, the Wildcat linksmen picked up where they left off by taking three matches in the past week.

Miami Tenth Victim
Kentucky rang up its second win of the season over Miami University Tuesday, by the score of 16½ to 10½, at Oxford, Ohio. It was the Wildcats' tenth win of the season.

Miami's Gary Carl shot a 65, one-under-par, to lead the scoring. Craig Wright led the Kentucky scoring as he shot a par 66 for the short course.

Beat Vols, 14-4

The Wildcats trounced Tennessee last Friday, 14-4, at the Lexington Country Club.

The Wildcats made a great showing as they averaged 72 strokes per man in the four individual matches. This was even par.

Johnny Owens led the Kentucky scoring as he shot a four-under-par 68 to defeat Gene Grant of Tennessee, who shot a 76.

Marvin Lear beat Tennessee's No.

Beaten By Vols

The University of Kentucky lost both varsity and freshman matches to Tennessee last Saturday in a double track meet held in Knoxville.

The Vol varsity outfit beat UK's first stringers, 33-41. UT's frosh team trampled the Kittens, 71-30.

Tony Dallas' wins in the 120-yard high hurdles and 220-yard low hurdles were the only triumphs of Coach Don Seaton's Wildcats could manage in the meet.

Herbie Neff, Tennessee, set a new high jump record for his school, clearing the bar at 6 feet, 5½ inches.

The Vols won 12 firsts in varsity competition to two for the Wildcats.

Tennessee's Alf Holmberg, touted freshman runner from Stockholm, Sweden, and the Vols' Tom Scott, varsity man, were abreast at the tape in the feature "match mile" event.

Varsity rundown:
Shot put—Meseroll (T), Ignarski (K), Lyons (T), 42 ft., 10½ in.

High jump—Neff (T), Dallas (K), Whitaker (K), 6 ft., 5½ in.

100-yard dash—Mynatt (T), Bergmeier (T), Lauricella (T), 104.

120-yard high hurdles—Dallas (K), Weeks (K), Tatum (T), 15.6.

880-yard run—Scott (T), Fowler

2 man, John Reneau, 2½-1½. Lear shot a 75 and Reneau had a 79.

Craig Wright shot a one-under-par 71 for second scoring honors for Kentucky. His opponent, Bud Keener, shot a 74.

The summary:
Kentucky 14, Tennessee 4

First Foursome
John Owens (K) 68, defeated Gene Grant (T) 76, 3-0. Marvin Lear (K) 75, defeated John Reneau (T) 79, 2½-1½. Kentucky won low ball, 3-0.

Second Foursome
Bud Lewis (K) 74, tied Jim Smith (T) 74, 1½-1½. Craig Wright (K) 71, defeated Bud Keener (T) 74, 2-1. Kentucky won low ball 2-1.

WAA News

By Anne Boyd

When the dust cleared this past Tuesday, Kappa Alpha Theta had another cup for their mantle, for they are the 1950 softball champions. They won over Chi Omega to the tune of 19-14. The game went five innings, with the strong pitching of Ruth Halverson for Chi Omega and the fine control of Jover Reynolds. There, other Theta players that turned in a good game both in the field and at the plate were Martha Durham, Betty Bryant, and Mary Ellen Price.

Chi Omega put up a good fight, but it was not good enough to buck the strong Theta team. Some of the Chi Omega players who were active in their valiant try were Ruth McCracken, Bonnie Shoup, and El-(T), Havermore (K), 2-04.

220-yard dash—Mynatt (T), Farley (K), 22.6.

Pole vault—Elmore (T), Brewster (K), Tatum (T), 11 ft., 4 in.

Broad jump—Fournan (T), Dallas (K), Lauricella (T) tied for second, 21 ft., 11½ in.

Discus—Burdinger (T), Meseroll (T), Bruno (K), 130 ft.

Two-mile run—Trent (T), Willis (K), 10.18.

220-yard low hurdles—Dallas (K), Weeks (K), Tatum (T), 25.9.

ma Kirtpatrick. The trophy will be presented at the WAA banquet.

That's an important time to keep in mind—the WAA banquet. Keep Tuesday, May 16, open for that big affair. Along with the many awards, trophies, and WAA letters, there is going to be a prominent campus figure as guest speaker. Anyone interested in attending can pick up a ticket at the Women's gym.

WAA elections are now complete—all the votes are in and the tabulations are being made. Announcement as to the results will be made at the WAA banquet. The slate, as set up by the nominating committee, and approved by the WAA council was as follows: President, Dot Honaker, Chris Morris; vice president, Eula West, Anne Boyd; treasurer, Louise Bore, Wanda Meire; and secretary, Bonnie Sharp, Marilyn McDonald.

Tennis matches are flying fast and furious by now. Tournament play is in full swing. The second round was to be played by Friday, May 12, with the third round deadline set for next week. Golf and archery tournaments are going full blast now also. Approximately twenty girls have entered the golf tourney and almost twice that many are shooting in the archery tournament. There promises to be a great deal of strong competition and great fun to be found in these last tourneys of the WAA intramural year.

Sports Review

— By Tom Diskin, Sports Editor —

Eleven Kentucky Wildcat basketball players will be employed this summer at four swanky resorts deep in the heart of New York's Catskill Mountains.

The players, as arrangements stand now, will include six members of last season's varsity aggregation plus the starting quintet of the 1949-50 freshmen team.

They will be working as waiters, lifeguards, bellhops, bus boys and horseback-riding instructors from July 1st until Labor Day.

Bobby Watson, Cliff Hagan and Frank Ramsey are slated for the pretentious Kutchers' Hotel and Country Club, located near Monticello, N. Y.

Bill Spivey, Whitey Pearson and Richard (Herm) Pike will form another contingent at another nearby resort. Lindie Castle, Lou Tsioropoulos and Roger Layne will make up another, while Captain Walt Hirsch and Lucian "Skipper" Whitaker are expected to be sent to a fourth summer resort in the Catskills, approximately 100 miles northwest of New York City.

In past years, many outstanding collegiate basketball players, particularly in the East, have worked in the Catskills at these resorts including George Mikan, Bob Cousy and Easy Ed Macauley.

These jobs, which have been approved by the NCAA, affords the players an opportunity to help pay his way through college.

Largely for the entertainment of the well-to-do vacationers, each of these palatial inns form basketball teams and have a regular league during the summer months.

Because of the numerous college players on the various squads, a pretty sharp rivalry has developed among the resorts. Some of the chateaus have even secured well-known coaches to lead their teams. Red Auerbach, former mentor of the Washington Capitols team, will be in charge of one of the resort quintets.

Two games will be played each week, one Friday and the other Sunday. All the inns have outside courts, complete with night lights, and as a result the games are held in the cool, exhilarating evenings.

It should be a very enjoyable summer for these Wildcat basketball players, who will not only be earning some spending money as a result of their jobs, but will also be able to pick up a few basketball tips from the older collegiate players who will be playing on their teams.

As far as the other varsity players are concerned, Shelby Linville, of Middletown, Ohio, has decided to work in a paper mill in his hometown.

Read Morgan, of Milwaukee, Wis., is planning to spend the summer working on a farm. C. M. Newton, UK's ace pitcher from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., expects to be playing a lot of baseball around Florida during the coming months.

SPORTS QUIZ

The winner of Sports Quiz No. 4 and a carton of Chesterfield cigarettes was B. T. Perkins. He answered eight of the 10 questions correctly for a percentage of 80%. If he will stop by the Kernel sports office any Wednesday or Thursday afternoon, the Chesterfields will be presented to him.

The questions missed were No. 7, concerning Joe Perrault, the noted Olympic ski jumper and No. 10, about the only "Tobacco Bowl" contest to be held here on Stoll Field some three and one-half years ago.

Quiz No. 4 Answers

1. Ralph Hornsby; The Grey Eagle-Spicer; The Maryland Strong Boy-Fox; Big Poison-Paul Wagner; Scooter-Rizzuto; Pistol Pete-Reiser; Shoeless Joe-Jackson; and Puddin'-Head-Jones. 2. Jimmy Fox. 3. Ty Cobb. 4. Lowery attended Purdue; Lusk-Stanford; Hall-Army; Huber-Kentucky; Pollard-Stanford. 5. Jim Line was born in Pennsylvania. 6. A football player 53 yards one-third yards wide. 7. Perrault is a famous ski jumper. 8. Barnstable. 9. UC is in the Mid-America Conference. 10. Muhlenters beat St. Bonaventure, 26-25, on Stoll Field in December of 1946 in Lexington's first and last Tobacco Bowl grid game.

Rules of Contest

Each student is allowed one entry in this quiz, but it must be submitted to Tom Diskin, sports editor, UK, before next Wednesday noon. The winner, who will receive a carton of Chesterfield cigarettes, will be decided upon the entry having the MOST correct answers. A perfect score is not necessary.

In case of ties for first place, the entry which was received first by the sports editor will be declared the winner.

The winning student for Quiz No. 5 will be announced next week in The Kernel.

QUIZ No. 5

SPORTS BOOK REVIEW

WHO'S WHO IN THE MAJOR LEAGUES. Published by B. E. Calahan, 328 So. Jefferson Street, Chicago. By mail, 50 cents.

The 18th edition of this 104-page book of baseball facts and figures is full of information, including data on the history of the World Series (1903-1949).

Each team in the majors, including the Cincinnati Reds, is featured with team records and pictures of the top stars. This is a book that will cover every prominent player in the big leagues today.

THE CINCINNATI REDS, by Lee Allen. Published by G. F. Putnam's Sons, New York. $3.00.

Lee Allen has been associated with the Reds for many years and is considered one of the top baseball experts in the nation. He has compiled a history of the Reds which covers the Cincinnati team from 1869 to the Johnnie Neun era of 1947. Most of the book naturally contains detailed information about the fine Redleg teams of 1939 and 1940 when they copied the National League pennant two consecutive years. The Cincy nine won the World Series against Detroit in 1940.

The author has included in this book numerous pictures, starting with the "Reds of 1869".

BILL STERN'S SPORTS QUIZ BOOK. Published by the Julian Messner Co., Inc. of New York. $1.

Questions of many different sports are listed in this 128-page quiz book together with answers to the 200 individual quizzes. It is a well-organized book, easy to use and offers a total of 2000 questions and answers to test your wits.

BEST SPORT STORIES OF 1949. Edited by I. T. Marsh and Edward Ehre. Published by E. P. Dutton and Co., New York. $3.00.

This is an excellent book which reviews the entire year of 1949 and the new champions together with 30 of the year's top sports pictures. It is a panorama of the 1949 sports year and includes the best stories written by the best sportswriters.

Among the writers are Stanley Frank, of the Saturday Evening Post; Grantland Rice, Look Magazine; John Lardner, Sport; Red Smith, N. Y. Herald Tribune; Bob Considine, INS and Cosmopolitan; Tim Cohan, sports editor of Look, plus many others.

The Courier-Journal's Earl Ruby has had for the second consecutive time one of his stories selected by the committee. His article of last June 16th, on "Uncle Charley" Moran is contained in full. At the conclusion of the book, there is a list of every champion for 1949 from archery to yachting.

This book seems to become more popular each year with sports followers.

"I SHOOK THE HAND," by Harold Ratliff. Illustrated by Bill McManahan. Published by the Naylor Co., of San Antonio, Texas. Price $2.75.

Harold Ratliff, the Associated Press sportswriter for Dallas and one of the top men in his field in the nation, has compiled a book featuring personalities whom he has become acquainted with in 25 years of sports writing.

Ratliff knows how to write and his stories never lag or drag. Starting out with the one and only Dizzy Dean, Ratliff covers all fields of sports personalities. Others include Golfer Ben Hogan, Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg, Texas U's ex-coach Dana Bible, Tris Speaker, Byron Nelson of golfing fame, the ebony superman, Satchel Page, Jesse Owens, and a chapter on "Terrific Texans," which lists some of the outstanding athletes of today and yesterday from the Lone Star State.

This is a very good book to read, particularly if you are interested in the Southwest section of this country.

1950 BASEBALL REGISTER. Published by Sporting News (C. C. Spink & Son), St. Louis. Price $2.

Here is a publication that is considered a must for every newspaper library as well as avid baseball fans. Every active ballplayer in the major leagues, with the exception of the rookies of the 1950 season, is listed with a detailed record of his baseball career.

Some of the things named for each ballplayer are: date and place of birth; height, weight; color of hair and eyes; right or left handed; ancestry; marital status; hobbies; entire baseball record for past years; world series record as well as all-star game marks and an explanation of how any nickname was acquired as well as any college he might have attended. In addition there is a list of any "outstanding performances" by this individual from the beginning of his baseball career.

Dan Daniel has also written a 38-page biography of Jolting Joe DiMaggio, which is one of the features of the 320-page Baseball Register.

Ykiens Will Be Distributed May 24-30; Warning Issued

Distribution of The Kentuckian will begin May 24 and continue through May 30. They must be claimed by Jan. 1, 1951, or the claim will be considered relinquished.

Netters Meet Cincy Bearcats

By Fred Lawson

Kentucky's tennis team, rained out of its match with Cincinnati last Saturday, will travel to the Queen City tomorrow to take on the Bearcats in a return match.

The Wildcats have a season record of one win and four losses. The win was from Berea, 10-0, and the losses were to Indiana, Vanderbilt, Western Kentucky, and Tennessee.

The chances of the Wildcats in future matches received a jolt recently when Moss Lubbers was declared ineligible. A ruling was made that Exchange Students would be ineligible.

Lubbers, a student from Holland, has been a consistent player on the tennis team.

The next home game for the netters will be Georgia Tech, who will be here May 20 for a single engagement.
